Wissmach 90™

The availability of Wissmach 90™ cut blanks by Wissmach re-inspired me to experiment with processes and materials only hinted at in my previous books. Its affordable price and pre-cut shapes allow me to produce simply and quickly.

Copper and other metal inclusions between layers of Wissmach 90™ glass, modified with various oxide solutions, have helped me create a process and a look that I can only compare with raku. As in raku, the fire in the kiln alters the copper and produces fuming metals with iridescent qualities, a natural consequence of high temperatures. From now on, Wissmach 90™ will always be in my studio."
